Central Asia Reader The Rediscovery of History

Edited by H.B. Paksoy

"This collection of authentic voices will be of great interest to specialists and students alike as a window into the contemporary politics of identity in Central Asia. These skillfully annotated essays present a fascinating collage of the struggles of Turkic peoples of the former Soviet Union to rid themselves of the legacies of a century of Russian domination and to forge new understandings of themselves and their pasts." —Mark R. Beissinger

Everyday Islam Religion and Tradition in Rural Central Asia

Sergei P. Poliakov, Edited with an Introduction by Martha B. Olcott

In chapters rich with previously inaccessible information about marital customs, childrearing, communal decision making, social prestige and values, and the "second" economy in Central Asia, Poliakov demonstrates the resilience of an "un-Soviet" way of life.

The Modernization of Inner Asia

Cyril E. Black, Louis Dupree, Elizabeth Endicott-West, Daniel C. Matuszewski, Eden Naby, and Arthur N. Waldron

"The book is remarkably well integrated and consistent in its approach and style. It is large in ambition and substantial in accomplishment." —Asian Studies Review

Moscow's Lost Empire

Michael Rywkin

"Those hesitant to enter the new and messy post-Soviet world of Armenians, Belarusians, and Chechens should by all means start with Moscow's Lost Empire. Rywkin's thorough, readable account of nationalities issues in the former Soviet republics provides a thoughtful introduction to the field." —Ian Bremmer

Moscow's Muslim Challenge

Soviet Central Asia

Michael Rywkin

"This work deserves to be read by anyone who would seek to understand the momentous transitions that await this part of the world. The book will serve admirably as an introductory text at all levels." —AACAR Bulletin
