

PUBLISHER'S FOREWORD

CIVILIZATION AND SOCIETY

Civilization and Society

by

SYED SAJJAD HUSAIN

Civilization and Society is the third book by Dr Syed Sajjad Husain published by the Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought. It is an anthology of his essays and reviews written over the last decade, a selection of those pieces which bear on the relationship between Islam and society as well as in the world outside. The first group of essays on civilisation was commissioned by the Institute.

While the members of the Institute do not necessarily agree with Dr Husain's opinions, they are all keenly interested in the present and future of Islam in Bangladesh. In a world whose usefulness can never be exhausted by any advances in science and technology, Dr Husain has shown that those who sometimes are heard to utter frankly dissenting views on Islam or those who think that religion can have no future often do so from ignorance of history and tradition.

The range covered by the contents of this book is fairly wide: history, sociology, literature, politics, comment and will go a long way to demonstrate that although we in Bangladesh are cut off by geography from the Muslim Ummah in other countries, we are fully conscious of our place in the wider community of Muslims.

It is in this spirit that we present the book to our readers.

Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought

Dhaka, Bangladesh

1994

Phone: 419494

CIVILIZATION AND SOCIETY

by

Syed Sajjad Husain

Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought

Dhaka, Bangladesh

@ April 1994

PRICE: 250 TAKA

20 US $

Printed At:

Masro Printing and Packaging Ltd.

143/B, Arambagh, Dhaka-1000

Phone : 419494

PUBLISHER'S FOREWORD

Civilization and Society is the third book by Dr Syed Sajjad Husain that the Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought is publishing. It is an anthology of his essays and reviews written over the last decade, a selection of those pieces which bear on the place of Islam in our society as well as in the world outside. The first group of essays on civilisation was commissioned by the Institute.

While the members of the Institute do not necessarily agree with Dr Husain on every point, we are glad to present to the world the opinions of a Bangladeshi Muslim who is keenly interested in the present and future of Islam as a valid way of life whose usefulness can never be exhausted by any advances in science and technology. Dr Husain has shown that those who sometimes are heard to utter frankly dissenting views on Islam or those who think that religion can have no future often do so from ignorance of history and tradition.

The range covered by the contents of this book is fairly wide; history, sociology, literature, politics have all come in for comment and will go a long way to demonstrate that although we in Bangladesh are cut off by geography from the Muslim Ummah in other countries, we are fully conscious of our place in the wider community of Muslims.

It is in this spirit that we present the book to our readers.

Zahurul Islam

Secretary General of the Bangladesh

Institute of Islamic Thought

Dhaka August 1993

CIVILIZATION AND SOCIETY

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. PREFACE	i - ii
A. GENERAL
1. Defining Civilization	11-25
2. More on Definitions	27-43
3. Civilization in Crisis	45-87
4. The Malaise at the Root of Civilization	89-96
5. National Pride and the National Heritage: Some casual observations	97-109
6. The Encounter between the Muslim and non-Muslim Worlds	111-119
7. Human Rights and Liberty	121-131
8. Education System : Changelessness vs Dynamism	133-140
9. Fundamentalism	141-151
10. Excesses of Democracy	153-157
11. How Historical Myths Grow	159-166
12. Problems and Paradoxes in Bangladesh	167-192
13. Some Observations on the Two-Nation Theory	193-198
B. LITERATURE
14. Seerah Literature in Bengali	199-222
15. Iqbal as I see him	223-228
16. Iqbal as Others have seen him	229-233
17. Nazrul Islam : An Assessment	237-245

C. A PORTRAIT FROM MEMORY

18. The Azad Group in the Forties 247 - 252

D. AN OPEN LETTER

19. An Open Letter to Indian Intellectuals 253 - 264

E. BOOK REVIEWS

(a) BANGLADESH

20. History of the Muslims of Bengal 265 - 271

21. Europe Reconsidered : Perceptions of the West In Nineteenth Century Bengal 273 - 277

(b) INDIA

22. Gandhi; Pan-Islamism,
Imperialism and Nationalism 279 - 282

23. Eight Lives; A Study of the Hindu-Muslim Encounter. 283 - 286

24. Maulana Abul Kalam Azad's
India Wins Freedom 287 - 306

(c) ISLAM

25. Islam in the Modern World 307 - 314

Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought (BIIT)

Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought (BIIT) is a non-profit socio cultural research organisation. The Institute was established (Registered) in the year 1989 under the Society's Registration Act 1860.

The Prime objectives of the Institute are as follows:

- To carry on in-depth studies on the nature and impact of Western Education and Culture on the body-politic of the Islamic Ummah and the ways and means to introduce an Islam-based education system at all levels throughout the whole Ummah in general and Bangladesh in particular.
- To publish study materials through basic research or reproducing such materials published elsewhere.
- To organise discussion forums, workshop, seminars on various issues of socio-cultural and educational interest.
- To establish a network of similar organisations working throughout the world for exchange of views, publications, fellow experts and executives for improving the quality of service to the Ummah.

Bangladesh Institute of Islamic Thought (BIIT)
278/A, Elephant Road
Dhaka-1205
Phone : 503141, Fax : 88-02-813087