ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am extremely grateful for the advice given to me, in the course of writing this book, by Oleg Akimushkin, Simon Digby and Albert Hourani. I must also acknowledge the financial assistance of the British Academy and the USSR Academy of Sciences, which enabled me to work on manuscripts in the latter's Institute of Oriental Studies (St Petersburg Branch). Many thanks are due for the kindness shown me by the members of the Middle East Department there, especially by Sergey Turkin. I must also express my indebtedness to the staff of I. B. Tauris and in particular to Anna Enayat; to the librarians of the Bodleian Library, Oxford; and, above all, to my wife for her great patience and help.

THEOLOGY OF DISCONTENT

The Ideological Foundations of the Islamic Revolution in Iran

Hamid Dabashi

An engagingly written narrative, this volume for the first time brings together the leading revolutionaries who shaped the ideological disposition of the cataclysmic event. Examined are such figures as Ali Shari'ati, Morteza Motahhari, Mehdi Bazargan, Sayyad Abolhasan Bani-Sadr, and Ayatollah Khomeini.

CALLIGRAPHY AND ISLAMIC CULTURE

Annemarie Schimmel

This lively introduction to different Muslim styles of writing shows how calligraphers and calligraphy have influenced the social life of their times. It demonstrates the relationship between calligraphy and Islamic mysticism, and explores the use of calligraphic imagery in Islamic poetry.
